

Gala Apple Espalier

A wonderful New Zealand, red, dessert apple with a distinctive yellow blush. Showy clusters of lightly scented blush pink flowers in spring which produces edible fruit in autumn. This early harvest variety requires a different selection of the same species growing nearby in order to set fruit. Good pollinizer for other varieties.

Water deeply, regularly during first few growing seasons to develop an extensive root system; once established, reduce frequency to weekly, or more in extreme heat or containers.

- Prune in late winter or just after flowering. Light pruning is useful for keeping plants healthy, improving form, and correcting structural problems.
- It is important to disinfect pruning tools after each cut since pathogens can be spread by pruning tools.
- Heavy cuts of one-inch or more should be avoided since they induce excessive water-sprout growth that will ultimately fill in the tree center.
- Don't use a general fertilizer; you can apply a specially-formulated fertilizer for fruit trees as needed during the growing season. Follow the directions on the package so as not to burn the young tree roots.
