

Limetta Hydrangea

Limetta has strong stems that hold the blooms upright all season, and a dwarf, rounded habit that makes it perfect to plant anywhere, from foundations to flower gardens. In early summer, spheres of lime green flowers appear. They lighten to a soft green-white before turning jade green for the rest of the season. They last clear through frost for a persistent show that takes practically no effort on your part - they are great for both fresh and dried cut flowers

Reaches 3-4 feet tall and wide.

Partial to Full Sun

Water regularly to maintain evenly moist soil - weekly, or more often.

- Do prune regularly; this will result in a much sturdier framework, capable of holding up the massive flower heads.
- Do prune in late fall or winter. This will avoid cutting off next season's blooms before they've had a chance.

- Don't forget to provide adequate drainage and avoid "clay bowls" that are notorious for holding water and predisposing plants to the compost heap.
- Don't prune plants too early or you run the risk of cutting off future blooms.
