

Snow Queen Hydrangea

Large, dense, white flower clusters are held upright above the dark green oak leaf-shaped foliage. The midsummer blooms develop a rosy-pink hue in the fall as the leaves turn deep red-bronze. Tan-brown exfoliating bark is attractive in the winter. An excellent landscape specimen or foundation plant. Useful as a flowering hedge plant.

Moderate growing; reaches 4-5 feet tall; 5-6 feet wide.

Partial sun

Water regularly to maintain evenly moist soil - weekly, or more often.

- Do prune during or directly after flowering; this will insure we are not cutting off future flowers.
- Do provide proper siting. Oakleaf hydrangea are shade oriented plants and need protection from hot afternoon sun.
- Don't place in an exposed, full sun site with minimal access to water.
- Don't forget to provide adequate mulch and annual fertilizer.
