

Ruby Falls Redbud

The Ruby Falls Redbud is a dwarf cascading beauty with tons of purple power! With maroon to deep green to purple leaves from spring to fall and lavender spring blooms that sit atop bold red stems you will be excited for spring to arrive! But this distinctive weeping redbud is even beautiful in winter with its flowing branches and distinctive habit. This compact tree fits just about anywhere and can even be grown in containers!

Reaches 6-8 feet tall; 5-6 feet wide.

Full Sun to Partial Shade

Water regularly - weekly, or more often in extreme heat.

- Do provide adequate drainage and avoid “clay bowls” that are notorious for holding water and predisposing plants to the compost heap.
- Do apply mulch to a depth of 3-4”, your mulch ring should be the same diameter as the canopy above. Avoid piling the mulch around the trunk and creating the unfortunate “mulch volcano”.
- Don’t plant in an exposed site; redbud is typically found as an understory plant in Michigan, protected from high winds and harsh sunlight.
- Don’t plant too deep; pay attention to the root flare in relation to the surrounding grade. A tree too high or deep will result in a tree under stress.
